REPUBLICAN TICKET.

Election, Tuesday, Nov. 7th CONGRESSIONAL TICKET.

For Congress-First District CHARLES O. WILLIAMS, of Rock.

SENATORIAL TICKET. For State Senator -17th District -

S. L. LORD, of Fulton. MEPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVEN-

TION. A Republican County Convention will be held at the Court House in the city of Janesville, on noon, to nominate randidales for county officers. The several towns and wards will be entitled to delegate as follows: Aven, Beloit, Bradford, Center, Harmony, Janesville, Johnstown, La Prairie, Lima, Magnolia, Newark, Plymouth, Porter, Rock, Spring Valley, Turtle, the Second, Third and Fourth Wards of the city of Beloit, and Fifth Ward of the city of Janesville two cach; the First Ward of the city of Beloit three; Clinton, Fulton, Union, Milton, the Second and Third Wards of the city of Janesville four each: the First and Fourth Wards of the city of Janes

> W. T. VANKIRK, J. R. WEST. C. C. KEELER. W. W. CLARKE,

J. W. JONES, Committee. There is a wonderfully abundant crop of party factions this year. The Republicans will carry Maine today and Ohio on the 19th of October.

Butler has hold every political card that can be mentioned; and his latest is that of a tariff reformer.

Mr. Blaine has a son who has taken the stump in Maine this campaign, and his speaches distinctly mark him as a chip off the old block."

President Arthur is doing more during and wrong than any President we ever had. In that he is as successful as Mr. Hayes was as a county fair card.

James Tracy, the Chicago murderer, will haug next Friday unless the Supreme Court interfers. It is likely the hanging programme will carried out.

The Democratic candidates for State officers in Kansas, are distinguished only for their obscurity. They have plenty of company among Democratic candidates in other States.

The Luquor Association in Oluo, has gone back on the Democratic State Committee. The liquor men couldn't furnish he committee money enough to keep the members in good humor.

The Second Congressional district convention has not yet reached the number of ballots east by the Singleton district, in Illinois. Before a nomination was made they had taken 1,531 bailots.

A great many Democrats in Indiana do not like their platform, and a prominent one, the Hon. J. R. West, says the together as naturally as a duck takes to water. But did you ever hear of the Democrats and the temperance people forming a coalition?

It will be interesting to know which will come out aboad in the Democratic race for the nomination for Governor of New York-the Flower barrel or the Tilden barrel. The Flower barrel seems to be a little ahead now.

The State Fair at Fond du Lac was opened to-day. As an exhibition, it will exceed any other ever before held in this State. It is hoped that fine weather may continue through the week so that the attendance will be large and the fair a financial success.

Hazel, the child murderer of Illinois, has been sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of ninety-nine years. His victim was a girl five years old, whom he whipped unmercifully with a cowhide, then kicked her from room to room until she was dead.

At noon to-day the West Bend Demoeratic Convention had taken 1,100 ballots with no change. There are a great many speculations as to what will be the ultimate result, the most probable one being that a third man will soon come to the front as a compromise. One Bragg delegate seems to weaken a little once and a while, but whether his seduction will be finally completed is a question.

and the contest no doubt will be a sharp one. Mr. Blaine has taken a most active part in the canvass and has done some cffective work, and if he succeeds in defeating the Democratic-Greenback party in that State he will deserve the thanks of the Nation. If that coalition is thoroughly trampled upon at the polis in Maine to-day, such a result will operate officers from 1883 to 1881 will excite to the advantage of the Republican party in other States.

The Gazette has offended the State Journal very much by having said in our issue of the 8th instant that the Congressional contest in the Third district seemed to have been settled in favor of Mr. Hazelton. It did so appear on the 8th that Hazelton had secured 22 of the 42 delegates. But if it turns out that the outlook on the 8th was deceptive and that ing against the pending amendment, as the State Journal is a better political they want a chance to vote for State ofprophet than the Mouroo Sentinel, then I ficors in 1883. Taking one thing with an- 195ks, very weary and worn and appears to be mon his nomination for Congress.

The Woman's Suffrage Convention at | to know what will be the result. Madison adopted the following resolution among several others:

Resolved, That every question, so far as concerns our organization, shall by us be held to abayance as a political question, until we have ittained the full purpose for which we have been organized; and that sound sense and wis loss dictate the line of conduct.

The women showed good sense in adopting this resolution. The National Prohibitionists, if they were wise, could form a valuable lesson from the Woman Suffrage Association of Wisconsin.

A dispatch from Madison to the Milwanked Republican-Sentinel, gives the following account of the Congressional situation in the Third district. " E. W. Keyes returned from Green and Iowa counties last night. He says he has six votes of Green county, which with Dane gives him twenty. Lafayette and Iowa counties will hold their conventions tomorrow and Tuesday. Hazelton is sure of Lafayette, and it is said that he is certain of four votes from Iowa, while he will have to fight for the remaining two. Keyes thinks he will get one vote in Minoral Point, Iowa county, and one in Shullsburg, Lafayette county. The fight in the two counties mentioned will be

A WORD ABOUT WHEAT.

It was said in the Gazette several days ago, that the estimated yield of wheat in the United States in 1882, was from 500,000,000 bushels to 600,000,000 bushels. The Produce Exchange, of New York, made the estimate of the former quantity, and the Agricultural Bureau the latter. This is more by nearly 200,-000,000 bushels than was over before raised in the United States in one year, and the yield is so large that some regard the question, "what shall we do with it?"

as a very serious one. It has been estimated very carefully that allowing for increase of population and average during the coming year, the home consumption cannot be expected to exceed 206,000,000 bushels, and in round numbers about 300,000,000. Placing the yield at only 500,000,000 bushels, we will yet have a surplus left for market, of 200,000,000 bashels. Here is where the matter becomes serious. There has nover been a year when this country has exported that amount of not even when the in Europe have met with the worst disasters. This year the crops in Europe will be nearly up to the average, so that there will be no great demand for American wheat abroad. This will have the tendency, of course, to keep down the price, and an enormous surplus will have to be carried lover to another year-a surplus, which has been said, would be "greater than the country can afford to carry."

If the yield in 1832 has been between platform is too slick, slippery, and nar- 1500,000,000 and 600,000,000 bushels, what row. All Democratic platforms are of will the harvest be in 1883? In the older States the acreage will not vary much from the past two years, but in the newer Democrats and Greenbackers form a States and in the Territories the average coalition whenever possible. They come will be mereased, especially in Dakota, and the yield of wheat will be probably a hundred or a hundred and fifty millions more than in 1882. Then what to do with it if the crops of Europe are fairly good, will be a question which will perplex the wisest political economists in the country.

> PROHIBITION AND BIENNIAL SESSIONS. A dispatch from Madison to the Milwankee Sunday Telegraph attempts to show that the biennial session amendment is a "dead give away" so far as concerns the prohibition question. The statement the Sunday Telegraph makes is, that there is no hope of the Prohibitionists getting a constitutional amendment through for several years in consequence of the biennial system having been adopted.

The language of the dispatch which will throw so much discouragement in the ranks of the Prohibitionists, is as follows: "Under the annual system, a prohibitory amendment might have been rushed throught the legislature for submission to the people, in 1884, before the next presidential election. But the bienmal system delays at least three years, and probably five or seven years, the possibility of gotting the amendment before the people. If a legislature could be carried in favor of prohibition next winter, it cannot be acted upon again till 1883, when the legislature will sit which is elected in 1884, at the presidential election, when party and sectional questions will be quite likely to eclipse the Mame is holding its election to-day, prohibitory issue, and a legislature will be elected which will refuse to act on the question. It will take two legislatures, sitting two years apart, to get the question before the people again."

Taking this as the condition of affairs, the question as to what the Prohibitionists will do in regard to the pending amendment postponing the election of State some curiosity. Of course, if the amendment is adopted this fall, and there is every reason to believe that it will the day of submitting the proposed prohibitory amendment will be considerably delayed. If the Prohibitionists hold together in voting against the amendment which will postpone the State election till 1884, they may possibly defeat it. The Democrats will probably join the Prohibitionists in vot-

we will hearfily congratulate Mr. Keyes other, the condition of things as regards prohibition and bicanial sessions, is interesting, and the people will be curious

A BATTLE.

A Hot Engagement Between the Egyptians and the Redcoats at Kassassin.

Arabi's Forces Shelled and Driven From Their Position with Heavy Loss.

London, Sept. 11.-The News has received the following account of Sainrday's fight at Kussassin: "Eassassin, Sopt. 9, 9:20 a. m .- After 6 o'clock this morning the Bengal lancers and scouts came in with the news of the onemy approaching in great force on the north side of the railway. Our army was at once put in motion, and by 7 o'clock an artillory duel bogan. Arabi's troops, of all arms, are spread over the entire ridge, and a mile and a half up the line. A train heavily armed has appeared. Close to where I stand our forty-pounder and Krupp guns are placed, shelling the enemy's right. There is also a twenty-five pounder a few yards of, playing on the same position. We have the enemy's range exactly. One of our shells barst right over the enough's ranks. The Egyptian artillery have got our distance very well, and their shells are dropping steadily into our camp. We have the horse artillery extended along a line half a mile in length, on the north side of the railway. They are firing rapidly, and at present the Egyptians are slowly retiring. Reinforcements are just coming up from M.disameli. A Krupp gun recently captured from Arabi sont a shell nearly in front of his train. Our infantry are slowly advancing, and the enomy slowly retreating."

Gon. Wolseley telegraphs the war office from a point three and a half miles west of Kassassin lock the following report of Saturday morning's operations:

"SEPT. 9, Noon.-The enemy reconnectered our advanced posts with considerable force, all arms, at daybreak this morning. Gou.

our advanced posts with considerable force, all arms, at daybreak this morning. Gen. Willis advanced and attacked them, driving them back with loss. We have taken four guns. Our has is very trifling. The enemy have retired into their works, from which they are now firing at five thousand yards range. I shall return to eamp at Kasaasia shortly with all the force. I have removed my camp there as the railway and telegraph are now working fairly. We have found and buried the body of Lieut. Gribble."

Then, Wolsel-y reports that a very effective resonaiseance of the enemy's position was in the during the engagement to-day.

New York Sept. II.—The Tribiane's London cablegram says: The daily expectation of them. Wolseley's advance absorbs public interest. The labost accounts indicate that the conding light may decide the campaign. According to Sir. Garme. Wolseley's information, no substantial defenses exist between the front and Culro, except at T.I. of Kobir. Owing to transport duti-ducies them. Wolseley's unable to profit by the rapid advance from Ismailia to Kasaasia. Military man consider that had an initial movement been followed with promplitude the campaign would be shortened. The Arabs are good dike-makers, and their lines at Tollet Kebir are enormously strong. They extend eight miles, and are defended by the flower of the Egyptian army. Gen. Wolseley may be preparing a flank movement, which the authorities keep dark. It has long been thought probable that a smail force might advance from Suez to Cairo by the old mail route. Though provisions are now going from bamilia to the front at the rate of two hundred tons daily, the public has not overlooked the remarkable deficiencies of the commissariat transport in the axilier stages of General Wolseloy's advance. In many respects this campaign, a specially in the quarternaster general's department, is inferior to the one in Afglanistan, the details of which were not sufficiently worked out for feeding the army and for a rapid movement. The Angle-Turkish contention against Arabi, which did not state that to was a rebel, but that he merited the damo of a rebel.

The World's London cable says: Sir Garnot Wolseley's complex strategy is contrasted very unfavorably with Sir Frederick Roberts' rapid movements in Afghanistan, where he made a march that is ranked among classic military performances. German military authorities, whose ability cannot be questioned, say contemptionsly that Sir Garnet's tactics and infated dispatches remind them of "the movements of a burlesque army in a comic opera." After a long account in The Times of a "tromondous" cambonading lasting fall day," the result, as reported by The Thundarer's correspondent, was six Egyptians killed. It is becoming very difficult to treat these dispatches, which might have been written by Bombastes Furioso, with any seriousness. Meanwhile there are reports published, apparently on efficial authority, that large reinforcements are to be dispatched to Egypt, although there are already over forty thousand men under the command of Sir Garnet Wolseley, who can at least claim to have been intrusted with more powerful armies than were furnished to the duke of Wellington, if he is not making as much use of them. It is also rumored with some persecuence that Turkey has offered to transfer Egypt to England upon the same forms as Cyprus. At present Mr. Gladstony's conscitations acruples prevent him from accepting the offer, if, indeed, such an offer has been sections permanent.

Lendon, Sept. 11.—Four of Arabi Pasha's officer, who surrendered vesterday to the rary protectorate, which is most into y to become permanent.

Lennon, Sept. 11.—Four of Arabi Pasha's officers, who surrendered yeslerday to the British picket at Ramleh, report that there are only six thousand robel troops at Kafar-el-Dwar. The khediye has assured the British cousul general that he will stop keel-hauling and other punishments repugnant to modern ideas. Heavy canconading was heard yesterday in the direction of Aboutic. The English have thrown up riflepils around Kassassin.

Further Developments in the Alms-House Robbery at Philadelphia.

The Roof of the Poor House Stolen and

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 11. - The campaign against the alms-house plunderers rests with Phipps still at large, two of his accomplices in the asylum out on bail, and two contractors under bail for conspiracy, three guardians resigned by request, and a score or more of prominent citizens on "the anxious-seat." Councilman Rowan, who ought to know says that every guardian but two had their part in the stoal, in spite of the fact that the appropriations were not large and Phipps had to pinch the poor very hard to satisfy the demands made upon him. "Two or three months ago," said a friend of his, "Phipps came to me wringing his hands and said: 'How will I ever get through this difficulty?' More than this, the gentleman said, Phipps had told him, "I am forced to support twelve or fifteen families. This one wants a constant supply of poultry, another makes frequent demands for book. Hennessy brandy in large disanting is forced from me. If they continue in their demands they will absolitoly ruit in the "Phipps, in making his purchases from the market people, often had baskets fixed up and sont to the residences of friends. While these were considered a gift from the fiajor, at the same time the city baid sont to the weekly affair, and was expected. The latest discoveries are that, on the morning of Thursday of last weekly affair, and was expected. The latest discoveries are that, on the morning of Thursday of last weekly had all the books and accounts in his possession, shawing house receipts, moneys paid by other caupits for the suspert of their paupers, sto. buried in the alms-house furnace. Every evidence of the steals which were systematically carried on in these funds is thus destroyed, and the investigators will be compelled to approximate the deficiencies as been they can. Neither does there seem to be any way of disjovering who forged receipts, for warrable due confractors, two cases of which have ceine to light. Joshua L. Bailey, of the obmittee of one hundred, the first man to get a copy of Phipps indeture for the defociers, was the very man who placed Phipps in the house of refuge when a boy, of 18 for stealing goods from his store, in which he was employed, and he never told of it utill this week. Some curious developments afe being made by the statements taken hofers the district attorney, one of which is that, along the other thorts, the roof was of coppor, and, this fact being known to the board it guardians, it was add, will be less exponsive and from the being heady. NEW YORK, Sopt. 11 .- The World's cable ays great complaints are being made in Ireland of the utter withdrawal of English capital in every form from the disturbed island. Hotel-keepers are even writing to newspapers Hotel-keepers are even writing to new-papers that their houses are empty, and no tourists now visit the country. If ish papers tagorly assure travelers they are perfectly safe in any part of the Green island, but no one seem-disposed to travel in a country where nurders are of such frequent occurrence. Spectsmen, too, have been driven away by the people, and half the haunts in the sister island night as well be closed. The effect of this isolation of the people is likely to be severely full during the coming winter.

Congressional Nominations Saturday. The Democrats of the Twenty-first Ohio district nominated for congress M. A. Feran, an attorney of Irish birth, who was once president of the national Coopers' union. J. S. president of the national Coopers' union. J. S. Hart was selected in the Touth Kentneky district, George P. Finlay in the Seventh district of Texas, and Rice A. Pearce in the Ninth Tennessee. One thousand ballets have been taken for Bragg and Delaney, at West Bend, Wis. John M. Glover will run as an independent Democratic candidate in the First Misseuri district. The Republicans of the Eighth Pennsylvania district placed in the field Isaac McHase, and the Lehigh district put forward James S. Biercy. The Greenhackers nominated D. D. T. FOLGER'S BOOM.

Collector Robertson and Vice-President Wheeler Declare for Him. New York, Sept. 11.—Over one-third of the delegates to the Republican state convention have been chosen. The political complexion of the districts that remain to be heard from (and they include New York and Brooklyn) make it tolerably certain that of the 450 delegates about 150 will be for Cornell, 100 for Wadsworth, and the rest for Folger, the present secretary of the treasury. Judge Rubertson, the collector of the part, who led New York state's bolting delegation against Grant in the Chicago convention, has come out, it is said, for Foiger. Robertson has great influence, and he also controls an immense amount of patronage which it seems is to be swung for Folger. In the New York and Frooklyn districts the Staiwarts will carry nine-tenths of the delegates, and they will undeatherly control the convention. Ex-Vice President Whoeler, who has not been a Conkling man by any means, is reported in Hugh Hastings Stalwart Commercial Advertiser as saying: "The Republicans can only win by scheding the right man. His character, bit reputation, his disposition must be without a flaw or a taint. He must be as pure in character as he is strong in popularity and ripe in experience. We have only one such man—Judge Folger. He is the only man who can positively carry the state. Against Mr. Wadsworth not a word can be said, but his time has not yet come." The Skeleton at Martinsville, Ind., That of the Great Liberator's Son----It Will Be Burled Alongside the Old Hero. Indianapolis, Sept. 11 .- John Brown, jr., vent to Martinsville Saturday to investigate the question of the reported skeleton of one of his brothers at that place.

Dr. J. J. Johnson, in whose possession the body is, was not at home, the body is, was not at home, and consequently Mr. Brown remained there awaiting his return. Intervious wore had with the parties, however, which satisfied Mr. Brown that the body was that of his brother Gliver, and not Watson, as he had at first supposed. When he asked to see the skeldon it was not immediately furtheoming, the fact transpiring that for some months past it has been in the hall of the ledge of Knights of Pythias. For many years Dr. Johnson kept it in his office, and it was in a good state of of preservation, but somewhat rough handling later has ruined it, and it presents a decidedly serry appearance. Dr. Johnson has already given his word that it Mr. Brown is satisfied of the identity of the the skeleton he will give it up cheorfully, and so to day, it is probable, the remains will be transferred to the custody of the family, and be taken for burist to North Eiba, N. HUBBELL'S SUCCESSOR

A Wealthy and Popular German Republican Nominated for Congress in the Eleventh Michigan District. CHICAGO, Fapt. 11 .-- A special to The Journal from Negaunce, Mich., says: Mr. Edward Breitung, of this city, was yesterday nominated as Jay A. Hubbell's successor in congress from this (the Eleventh) district, by the lie-publican convention in session at St. Ignace. The nomination is a good and a very popular one. Mr. Breitung has been a resident of the upper peninsula for nearly thirty years, and is more closely identified with its interests than any other man in the district. He is a German by nativity, about 50 years of ago and of great weath. He came to this country when a boy, poor and friendless. He is respected for his benevotened and integrity. Owing to his great personal popularity the Democrats will not make a nomination against him. The district he will represent a congress is one of the wealthiest in the United States, being famous for its great iron and copper mines and its lumber interest. A HUNG JURY.

No Vordiet Yet Reached by the Jury in the Star-Route Case. The Rigors of the Common Law Put in Force by Judge Wylie. The Twelve Arbiters Locked Up and Deprived of All Creature Comforts.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11 .-- Shortly after 40 o'clock Saturday morning the jury in the star-route case came into court and reported diet, and asked for further instructions. These were given by Judgo Wylie at considerable length, and their general tendency was strongly against the defendance.

At their own request, the jury were allowed to take their notes into their room, and again

At a few minutes past 6 o'clock, Saturday right the "Come to order, gentleman; hats off, of the evier announced to the large audience that the judge had ascended the bench, All the defendants except S. W. Dorsey were present, Brady occupying. Lis customary sent for the first time since the retirement of the jury, and smilingly greating coursel for the defense as he entered the court room. Deputy Marshal Williams, in obedience to an order from the court, retired to the jury-room for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not they had agreed upon a verdict. He was informed that the jury would be ready in a few minutes to report to the court. At hen minutes past 0 o'clock the jury came into the room, and in answer to the query of the check: "Iterationed of the jury have you agreed upon a verdict?" Foreman Dickson replied: "We desire to report to the court that the jury lays some to an agreement as to some of the defendants named in the indictacent, not as to others."

The court—The court is not now, at any rate, willing to accept a verdict of that kind. There have been instances in which what I may call invertice verdicts have been rendered—a verdict as to some of the defendants and no verdicts to others. I un not willing to accept such a verdict as that, at any rate at this stage. The verdict of the jury, in my judgment, into the room, and in answer to the query of such a verdict as that, at any rate at this stage. The verdict of the jury, in my judgment, oright to be complete. You have a number of defendants here. Those who are guilty (if there are any) will have to submit of course no a verdict. Those who are inocent (if there are any) are cuitied to the verdict of the jury. I do not mean to say that if, after a fair test, the jury should come into court and say they are able to agree on a verdict as to some, but that they are really unable to agree as to others, the court might not accept such a verdict. But it would only be after a long trial on the part of the jury.

Foreman Dickson—The jury have not yet desired me to make such a report. We have along your down in obedience to your summings.

Col. Ingersoll-I do not know, of course,

Gel. Ingersoll—I for not know, of course, what the jury have done, but if a defendant, or any namber of defendants, has been found not guilty. Lean myself see no reason why they should not know that fact and why they should not be discharged. I do not see what right a court has to hold a person after the jury have declared him not guilty. It seems to the if they have found one or more of the defendants not guilty that it is the right of the defendants to know and have that verdict. If they fail to agree as to the others, that is another matter.

The court When it comes to the firm when the court is prepared to discharge the jury and the jury should say. We find certain of the defendants not guilty, and are mable to agree as to the others, that say my home to agree as to the others, that would be the time for the current to determine that question. But that this chas not come. I think no instance could be found in which a court of common law has accepted a verdict of acquirtal as to one today, as to another to uncrow, and as to another next day, or proceeded on any such principle as that.

Col. Impossed!—I would like to see the poods delivered as fass as they are finished.

Mr. Merrick - There can be but one verdict in any case. It cannot be divided.

The cent then stated to the jury that the government would be obliged to entertain them another night. The record of the court would not observe Sunday, because it had taken recessor since Friday.

he would refer we then from their imprisonment.

Heakle suggested that it might be well to fix state times 8 m.lay for a meeting of the court.

This suggestion met with the approval of the court, and he ordered the recess to be taken until Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

Promptly at 10 o'clock on Sunday court was called to order. In answer to Judge Wylle, a deputy marshal said the jury was not ready to come m, and the court remarked that he presumed the juryhad overslept themselves. At welve minutes past 10 the jury entered, looking rather latigued. In answer to the usual question the foreman answered: "I am not yet directed by the jury to make a report."

The Court -You have not agreed upon a versitiet?

Foreman Dicks on—Parlially,

The court—I do not know but that I shall have to administer the common law in its purity. At common law the jury was locked up and kept together without light, the or any comforts of civilized society, and so kept until their verificit was reached. I will consider about this, but will not adopt that centre to day.

Foreign: Diskson--II might be proper to state that we are no nearer a conclusion than when our last report was made.

The Court--Their, gentlemen, the time has come to enforce the common law. Marshal, you will take the juty to their own room and detain them as other juries are detained until a verifier is rearbed.

detain them as other juries are delained until a verdict is reached.

The jury filed out of the room and the court took a recess until 2. At that hour the asual andience was assembled. It included one lady who sat by the side of J. W. Dorsey. 8. W. Porsey was present for the first time since the retirement of the jury, but left the room before the court called order. All the other defendants were in the room except Brady, who remained in the reached. The deputy mars lad, by direction of the court, visited the jury and soon made report that the jury stated that it the court had anything to say they would come down; otherwise not. The court had nothing to say to them, and announced a recess till 0 oclock Monday.

Unsuccessful Vigitantes.

Washington, Ind., Sept. II.— A masked mob from the country gathered here early yesterday morning, with the intention of yesterday morning, with the intention of lynching John Hunter, who mandered william Leatz. The sheriff had quietly gerisoned the juil with thirty armed men. The vigilantes displaced the ropes of the fire and police belis, fred codleys to frighten citizens, and sent titty men over the juil fence. There attempts to force the doors were unavailing, and the appeals of the shelff and prosecuting attorney caused the mobile to disperse. Hunter lay crouched in his cell all day. cell all day.

Mr. Davidson said on the witness shand that he had to pay the ductor $2,000 for the operation on his wife. Dr. Kinne lestified that when called in he found the lady in high fever, and that she insisted that some-thing be done to help her. There was no con-sideration offered or accepted for the commi-tal of any improper act. The patient's illness and the death of her child were due to a son-gostive chilf which she caught at Saratoga. and the death of her child were due to a con-grative chill which she caught at Saratoga. The jury found that Dr. Kinne did all that professional skill and the humanity of a kind physician could suggest for the relief of his patient, and that the child came to its death from natural causes. The prisoners, Mr. Davidson and Dr. Kinne, were thereupon discharged, and so ends the great scandal.

1,000 BALLOTS.

The Extraordinary Contest in Gen. Bragg's District.

One Thousand Ballots Without the Change of a Vote.

WEST BEND, Wis., Sept 11.-A large lobby of the friends of Delaney arrived from Waukosha county to endoavor to carry the delegates from that county-elected in the interest of Gen. Bragg-over to Delancy. Their ofthat they had been unable to agree upon a ver- forts were unavailing, however, and the fourth day's balloting began exactly as the third day's closed-14 for Bragg and 14 for Delancy. As fast as any of the delegates are called away their places are filled by substi-Both sides began the day's tutes. the same expressions of with determination that have characterized them from the start, and each side appeared to think and talk less of dark horses or compromises than at any provious time. Capt. M. Morgan one of the Bragg men from Fond du Lac, who served in the Iron brigade under Gon. Bragg, in conversation with your correspondent, expressed the firm belief that the convention vould nominate Bragg, and the certainty that the "little General" will be elected by the people. The balloting continued through the forenoon without change, and, as the 850th ballot, on Saturday, the convention adjourned In the afternoon dispatches came pouring in to General Bragg from statesing in to General Bragg from statesmen and others from all parts of the United States. These which gave him most pleasure and satisfaction came from old soldiers who fought under him in the war. One from Nobraska read: "Held the fort!" Another from a wall known Pennaylyania officer said: "Stand firm, as you did at Antiotam." Delancy and his friends also received dispatches, mostly from their own localities, calling on thom not to let there be any break in the ranks. The afternoon ended with 914 ballots, all resulting as before. During the recess between the afternoon and evening sessions, your correspondent called on bir. Delancy and Gen. Bragg to learn what their intentions were. Mr. Delancy was found at the office of his friend and active backer, District Attenney O'Meara, the two being engaged in private conversation. Mr. Delancy begins to show the result of the wear and tear of the anxiety incident to the work of the week. He said, however, that he folt perfectly well, and was just as confident as ever. He said, further, that his mon would hold together for him just so long as he asked them to do so, and that he should never ask them to do otherwise. Gen. Bragg was taking a quiet stroll about the streets of the little town. He said that all the published stories to the effect that he was sick were false; that he was never in better heal in very been the lengt talk of a third man or a dark horse among his men. He believed that his epponents would be gind to men and others from all parts of the

or a dark horse among his men. He be-lieved that his opponents would be glad to introduce a third man, but that the fact was that as soon as another man should be presented in place of Mr. Delancy, part of the Delancy men would go over to him presented in piace of the belancy men would go over to him (Bragg.) and his own men would hold together (Bragg.) and his own men would look together and secure his immediate nomination. When ascord if the report was true that he was it a bos-rion to dictate the nomination in case of a break, he replied that he had never proposed or discussed such a thing. If the position should remain unchanged his men would stand by him. But if a break should come he would certainly be nominated. The best informed and most impartial observers express a helief that this statement is true; that either the deadlook will continue till the convention shall miliarm without a nomination, or that a the deadlock will continue till the convention shall adjourn without a comination, or that a break will be made by the introduction of a third man, which will result in Bragg's nomination. State Senetor flunt, chairman of the convention, and an enthasiastic Delancy man, in answer to inquiries said he thought it night be well, unless some other settlement should be made soon, and any without a manipulation and settlement. said he thought it night be well, unless some other settiement should be made soon, to adjourn without a nomination and authorize the congressional district committee to nominate. The Bragg men, however, will not agree to any such proposition, not only because they feel sum of saccess in the convention, but because the district committee will be appointed by Hunt, which would insure Delancy's nomination. "A' candidate so nominated," said Gen. Bragg, "would be defeated in this district by 6,000 majority." It is reported to dust that the Delancy men telegraphed to Judge A. Shott Sloan, of Beaver Dam, asking him to agree to play the part of a dark horse, but that a dispatch hud been received from him positively refusing to do so. Nearly all the "workers" on both sides departed on the executing trains Saturday night. The ovening session resulted in no change in the figures, and after 1,000 ballors had been taken the convention adjourned to meet again this morning.

A Rumor That the Cameron-Beaver Ticket Will be Withdrawn.

Wharton Barker's Management of the Independent Campaign.

Circado, Sept. 11.-The Times has the folowing special from Philadelphia: A gentlenan who is well informed in regard as to what is transpiring in political circles says: It has been an open secret for six months that the movements of the Independent Republicans have been largely directed by Wharton Barker. In January, at the assembly building, he declared with vory great carnestness that In March his letter to party. ator Mitchell and the reply of the contor again called attention to the danger to

From these facts, and from the fact that Barker is chairman of the Indopendentadvisory board for conducting the campaign, much interest attaches to the most ings known to have been held at his office the past week. There can no longer be any doubt that the Stalwarts have confessed their weakness, and have proposal their weakness, and have proposal the withdrawal of the Cameron-Beaver tisket, and a meeting of citizens will be held at the office of Mr. John Welsh to arrange a plan to unite the Lepublican party. The independents have from the first domained the withdrawal of the stated Cameron ticket, the adoption of party rules which shall insure a free party, and a civil service reform which shall give tenure of effect for Eightful public officers, and there can be no question that their present demands will be important to the subjects. In a word, they will insist upon the adoption of the platform of the Philadelphia convention of May '91, and the nomination of a ticket which of itself shall embedy the principles for which the battle lass been made.

Chicago Markets.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—The leading produce markets were active and again averaged lower, much to the disappointment of very many who had expected a reaction towards higher prices. The remark was made in several quarters. "We have had a big break all round, and there is room for a turn." There was a little of it at the start, but it did not last long. Pork and corn turned out to be very weak, which made other produce easier. The weakness was greatest in corn for this month, wheat for November, and pork for the near deliveries, while lard, meats, rye and the nearer wheat futures were relatively steady. There were several luying orders for pork and corn, but they were mostly filled during the first half hour, and then weakness prevailed. Meas pork closed 10 to 45c lower, at $20.73½ to $20.75 seller October, and $18.65 to $18.67% for January. Stories About Blind Men. Three men, two of them blind, were drinking together one night, in the room of a public house, and as is too often the result of such convivial meetings, one of the blind men quarreled and came to blows with the man that could sec. Here was likely to be a battle not by any means on equal terms. But the other blind man was equal to the occasion, That the man who could see should have no undue advantage over his less fortunate opponent, up jumped the blind friend and turned off the gas, and so they pommeled each other in a harmless way for a time. We have given an illustration of the warlike passion. an offset we could give many illustratrations of the gentler passion, love, for the blind are eminent disciples of Cupid and Hymen. As a rule a respectable blind man has no difficulty in getting a seeing wife, and very often with good looks to boot. And when we consider looks to boot. And when we consider the delicacy of touch in the finger-tips of the blind, the latter is not to be wondered at. Blind men, however, do not always marry wives who see. We not always marry wives who see. know of many instances in which both husband and wife are blind, and have managed to rear families without the occurrence of any serious mishap either to themselves or the children. And the cases are rare in which the latter are defective in sight. Only lately the marriage took place of a blind couple somewhat advanced in years, she being ship second advanced in years, she being his second wife, and he her third blind husband. The marriage was not wanting in the alements of romance, for in their young days they had courted, and parted, blind in a double sense. We will conclude with a courtship, but in this case will not youch for its truth. A blind man on several occasions met a widow, who was not, however, like himself, blind, and latterly concluded that she would make him a good wife. He resolved that he "pop the question" without loss of time. Accordingly, one evening found hime in the widow's house for that purpose, when his suit was entirely successful. But so elated was he with his sucful. But so elated was he with his suc-cess that, on leaving her door, he forgot he was up a flight of stairs. The stair-case window being very low, and hap-pening to be open, he felt the air on his heated brow, and at once stepped out without thinking where he was, and so fell into the court below. The widow, hearing the noise, ran down, greatly alarmed, but was fully reassured that no bones were broken by his remark:

bones were broken by his remark: "Maggie, ye hae a big step to your door!"—Chambers' Journal,

Trailing. One of the most remarkable features of uncivilized life is the power savages show of tracking men and beasts over immense distances. Many travelers have spoken of this as something almost miraculous, yet it is only the result of careful observation of certain well-known signs; and we have here before us a collection of very-common-sense hints on the subject. In countries like ours every trace or foot-print or wheel-track on roads or paths is soon obliterated or hopelessly confused; but it is otherwise in the wilderness, where neither man nor beast can conceal his track. In Caffreland, when cattle are stolen, if their foot prints are traced to a village, the head man is responsible for them, unless he can show the same track going unless he can show the same track going out. A wagen track in a new country is practically indelible. "More especially," say the authors of "Shifts and Expedients of Camp Life," "is this the case if a fire sweeps over the plain immediately after, or if a wagen passes during or after a prairie fire. We have known a follow-traveler in this manner recognize the tracks his wagen had made seven years. tracks his wagon had made seven years before, the lines of charred stumps crushed short down remaining to indi-cate the passage of the wheels, though all other impressions had been obliterated by the rank annual growth fully twelve feet high. Sometimes, the original soil being disturbed, a new vegetation will spring up along the wagon track, and thus mark out the read for Even on hard rock a man's bare foot will leave the dust caked together by perspiration, so that a practiced eye will see it; and even if there is no track, a stone will be disturbed here and there, the side of the pebble which has long lain next to the ground being turned up. If it is still damp, the man or beast that turned it has passed very recently. If a shower of rain has fallen, the track will tell whether it was made before, during or after the shower; similar indications can be obtained from the dew; and other indications of the time that has elaused since a man passed by is furnished by the state of the crushed grass, which will be more or less withered as the time is longer or shorter. Other indications are drawn from the direction in which the grass lies; this tells how tho wind was blowing at the time the grass was crushed; and by noting previous of the wind, one learns the time at which each part of the track was made.

A butcher is a man who wears an apron like that of a barkeeper. When you ask him for a porter-house steak he produces a bone that looks as if it belonged to a mastodon, with a little meat hanging to it. In law and equity, you are entitled to the butchers hand along with the meat, for you have bought it and paid for it, but he never delivers the goods. He needs that hand in his busi-It is so handy in weighing. meat weighed over. The butcher can be very sarcastic if he tries. Possibly his trade has something to do with his making cutting remarks. Besides, he is a man of brains, having more on hand than he has any use for which may account for the fact that he is never sent to Congress or the Legis-

We once suggested to a butcher that he put his scales where the customers could see the dial, not necessarily for publication, but merely as a pledge of good faith. "O, yes," he replied, scornfully, "I suppose after a while, when you buy a five cent soup bone, you will expect me to put on my swallowtail Sunday coat and my stove-pipe hat, hire the finest hack in town and a brass band, go in procession to your shanty and deliver the soup bone." We as-sured him him he was mistaken, that no such idea had ever entered our head, but we never afterwards enriched him with any more suggestions how to acquire the esteem and respect of his fellow citizens. We may mention right here, incidentally, in closing these remarks, that they do not apply to all butchers, but principally to the one who did not seem to need any advice where to hang his scales. - Texas Siftings.

His Love.

It was evening in the country. The moonbeams peeped softly between the leaves of the pulseless clan, and kissed the song-birds lost in happy dreams. The rose and the lily were asleep, so were the parship and the string-bean, and all the amorous air was toned with languid scent to the sublime altitude of a swell drug store.

They were walking up the shady avenue from the village whither he had taken her to prove his boundless admira-tion and love at a five-cent soda-water fountain.

"No," he commenced, for he knew they were getting near her vine-clad cot-tage, and he hadn't much time to lose, or grow less. With you I shall sail through life as tranquilly as over a placid moon-lit lake in a flat-bottomed boat, with a virtuoso at the stern playing the Old Folks at Home' on an accordion You are my evening star this evening and every other evening, and you shall ławe a ścal-skin sacque every Christ-mas."

She clutched his ready-made coat-or rather its sleeve in a wild cestasy of in-ellable delight, while he continued: You are the sweet particular idol of my life, and I shall take you to the circus next week. My love for you is deep as the iceman's coming and the plumber's pocket, which, like a spring, refills itself when drained. Mine is a wild enthusiastic passion that will withstand the rig-ors of the arctic butcher and milliner. The strawberry vender may lose the cunning of the hand that arranges the meaner specimens below the large ones in the three-quarter-pint measure which he guarantees to hold a quart but my love you will never lose, even if you bet it on a horse-race. Ah, yes, fair Imogen while life lasts you shall have in me defender against all the trials and tribu lations of this vexed, uncertain life. My love for you burns like a dollar in a poet's pocket; it also burns like yon snowy star, and not till that goes out-" "It has just gone out," she broke in.

The Coffee Trade.

Some idea of the rapid growth of the coffee trade of the world may be obtained from the fact that the total production, which was 675,000,000 pounds in 1859, has now risen to 1,300,000,000 pounds or nearly doubled. In Europe alone the consumption of coffee is said to have increased 240,000,000 pounds in the single year 1879. As for the producing countries, it seems that Brazil now holds the first place with a total of 560,000,000 pounds against 330,000,000 in 1870. The emancipation of the slaves is, however, expected to lead to a falling off in the crop, unless the Chinamen and coolies imported from Asia should prove unexpectedly well suited to the work of cul-tivation. Next on the list come the Dutch Indian possessions, which export about 150,000,000 pounds, the British East Indies, now exporting over 140,000,000, and Venezuela, producing about 100,000,000. On the other hand, the Antilles Islands have long been declining in the scale. Jamaica does not supply half as much coffee as in 1805. Martinique has fallen still more entirely out of the race, and the Rennion collec, which was once highly esteemed, and is still declared to be of excellent quality, finds no longer any market in Europe owing to the unfashionable bitterness of its taste.—N. Y. Mail. -Cakes which are particularly nice for picnics, as they can be carried in a basket without much danger of crumbling, are made of one cup of sugar, half a cup of butter, two eggs, half a cup of sweet milk, one teaspoonful of cream of tartar, a half a tablespoonful of soda (or two even teaspoonfuls of baking powder.) Mix with flour enough to make the dough as still as for sugar cookies. Roll out, or cut in strips, twist these strips like old-fushioned doughnuts, bake till they are a light brown. They may be flavored with lemon, or with cinnature the strips in the construction of the constr mon, or they may be dipped in cocoanut and sugar while hot.—N. Y. Post.

A Sunday Blaze.

At about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the fire bells rang out an alarm for fire day, agents will be here to exhibit their on the residence of Mr. Samuel Stone, on respective lights. The capital stock has Jackman street, East of the High school, been paid in. Third ward. By the time the fire department reached the scene, the flames had enveloped one wing of the house, and were rapidly encroaching upon the main building and threatening the adjoining houses. The building was a two story frame with a one story addition on the south side. The fire laddies, the Sack Company and volunteers pattled bravely with the furious element, which licked up the parched boards like tinder, but regardless of the scorching tongues of fire, and the blinding smoke, the workmen rushed into the building and saved all of the furniture. Rescue Hook and Ladder Company were promptly on hand, but could render little service, except to furnish ladders for the pipemen to play the hose into the upper story. Water Witch engine was stationed near the reservoir, and Washington engine, at at the fire 'yesterday, I most gratefully the extremity of the park nearest the fire. The first engine pumped to the fire department, the Sack Company and second, but after two or three breaks in | those gentlemen who voluntarily worked Washington engine's suction, Water and under abler and more experienced Witch warked alone, sending a fine stream through 1800 feet of hose, and were doing magnificent work, when the hose bursted. The damage was soon repaired, but a break occurred again. These mishaps gave the fire a big purchase, and the firemen had to work with buckets on the roofs of the adjacent houses, to prevent their being ignited. The building was very badly damaged, the wing being totally destroyed.

Mr. Stone, when questioned as to the origin of the fire, said he could not account for it. There had been no fire of any kind in the house since 7 o'clock in the morning, and then it was in an oil stove, some distance ramoved from where the flames apparently originated. His wife has been visiting in Center for several days, and he with organization, a number of unimportant | the children were at his father's when the fire appeared. The house, therefore, was unoccupied. Mr. C. C. Nelson, who lives opposite, stated that he first noticed the flames coming from the upper portion of the south cast end of the wing, and had to break open the door to effect an entrance. The building and furniture is covered by and insurance of $1,000 in the Continental Insurance Co. The entire loss will not reach over $600, as the furniture was saved.
